

ACBL OFFERING FREE GUEST MEMBERSHIPS**

The American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) is now offering free 120-day guest memberships. This membership will give you a chance to experience the benefits of ACBL membership, including online access to all issues of the Bridge Bulletin magazine since Jan. 2005. Joining the ACBL will also give you a membership number, needed to register for our limited masterpoint virtual club games.

The link to the description and application are here. Guest memberships are only available to people who have not been ACBL members previously.

When you apply - please list 272120 (London Bridge Centre) as the recruiting club, and Bruce Moor (5562066) as the recruiter. This will make it easier to add you to LBC's roster on BBO for entrance to our virtual club games and give LBC credit for recruiting you.

In the question "how did you hear about ACBL guest memberships?" please reply "bridge club."

For the ACBL username (not to be confused with your BBO user name) an easy choice is your e-mail address. Be sure to remember your password; you will need it to access your ACBL account once it is set up.

The ACBL will process your application within one business day. If approved, you will receive an e-mail confirmation package that invites you to log in to learn your new ACBL member number.

Good luck - and we hope to see you in our virtual club games!
